Life along this stretch of the Gower coastline is defined by the rhythm of the sea and the character of the village. Beaches and the promenade lie just moments away, with Mumbles Pier drawing the eye along Swansea Bay. Independent cafés, restaurants and local shops give the area its distinctive atmosphere, while well regarded schools, green spaces and convenient transport links make the setting as practical as it is appealing.

Arranged across three floors, the house offers generous and well balanced accommodation that unfolds with ease. Ground floor rooms provide a choice of settings for everyday living and entertaining, with a natural flow between the dining room and kitchen creating a welcoming centre to the home. Additional practical spaces are thoughtfully positioned, allowing the main rooms to remain calm and uncluttered.

The upper floors offer flexibility and privacy. Bedrooms are comfortably proportioned, supported by a study and shower room on the first floor. The principal bedroom occupies the top floor, set apart as a peaceful retreat, with a walk in wardrobe and soft sea glimpses across Swansea Bay towards Mumbles Pier adding a sense of occasion.

Outside, the gardens have been carefully arranged to make the most of the plot. A private driveway and raised seating area sit to the front, while the rear garden rises in gentle terraces. Here, decked and paved areas provide space for outdoor dining and relaxation, with upper levels given over to planting, a vegetable plot, greenhouse and shed. Mature trees, shrubs and flowers bring colour and structure throughout the year.

This is a home that combines space, outlook and location, offering an established coastal lifestyle within one of Mumbles most sought after settings.
