£450,000

Bedrooms 4
Bathrooms 3

Set quietly back from Binley Road behind a mature hedge, this beautifully kept detached home instantly feels like somewhere special. There is a reassuring sense of calm as you pull into the two private parking spaces, knowing this is a genuinely move-straight-in kind of house, the sort that lets you exhale the moment you arrive.

Step inside and you are met with light, warmth and a wonderfully homely atmosphere. The tiled hallway flows effortlessly through the ground floor, with a cleverly added understairs cupboard providing discreet, practical storage. This draws you naturally towards the heart of the home, a bright and sociable kitchen-diner designed for real family life. Thoughtful kitchen amendments have enhanced both style and function, with built-in appliances including a washing machine, dishwasher, oven and microwave neatly tucked away, and a five-ring gas hob taking centre stage for anyone who loves to cook.

Inset ceiling spotlights keep the space feeling light and modern, while a classic metro-tiled splashback adds texture and timeless appeal. A small central island creates a natural gathering point for coffee, conversation or a quick bite, and there is still plenty of room for a proper dining table, perfect for everything from midweek meals to weekend entertaining. It is a kitchen that genuinely works hard without ever losing its relaxed, welcoming feel.

French doors open out onto the rear garden, now elevated by a recently improved patio area that is perfectly set up for alfresco dining, summer barbecues and relaxed evenings with friends. Steps rise to a lush lawn offers space for children to play or for quiet moments soaking up the sunshine. It is a cheerful, private outdoor space that feels like a natural extension of the home.

Back inside, the living room offers a cosy contrast. A warm feature wall adds depth and character, while generous proportions allow plenty of room for comfortable seating around the fire. It is a space made for switching off, catching up and settling in.

Arranged over three thoughtfully planned storeys and extending to almost 1,400 square feet, the accommodation is both flexible and light-filled. The first floor hosts a lovely double bedroom with its own en-suite, alongside a further double bedroom and a very generous single bedroom which could be used as a nursery, study or hobby room, a modern family bathroom and additional storage.

The top floor is a real retreat. A plush carpet and beautiful bespoke fitted wardrobes maximise space and style, and the addition of window aperture shelving adds a lovely finishing touch, perfect for books, plants or personal touches. Completing the suite is a pristine en-suite shower room, offering a little everyday luxury.

The location quietly enhances everything. Several well-regarded primary schools are within walking distance, Stoke Park Secondary School is close by, and Caludon Castle Park and University Hospital are just a short drive away. Tucked within a small development of just four detached homes, the setting feels private and community-minded without being remote.

Overall, this is a light-filled, beautifully maintained family home with real soul, a place made for entertaining, unwinding and growing into. Warm, stylish and effortlessly liveable, it is the kind of house that does not just look good, it feels good too.
