A Rare Opportunity to Restore a Pre-1900 Detached Period House in a Village Setting

A substantial detached period house dating from before 1900, offering an exciting opportunity for complete renovation and modernisation, situated within a village setting and occupying generous established grounds.

The property has been unoccupied for a number of years and now requires extensive refurbishment throughout, providing an opportunity for a purchaser to undertake a comprehensive renovation and create a characterful individual home.

The accommodation currently comprises two reception rooms, two bedrooms, kitchen and bathroom, together with additional rooms within the basement. The existing accommodation retains the proportions and character associated with an older property, whilst requiring significant updating to bring it in line with modern expectations.

The photographs illustrate the current condition, including areas where plaster has fallen away and finishes and fittings are in need of replacement. The kitchen and bathroom are dated and the property should be regarded as requiring comprehensive renovation and redecoration throughout.

Outside, the property benefits from generous grounds predominantly laid to lawn, providing considerable garden space and a pleasant setting for the house.

This is a property for those seeking a substantial period renovation project, with the opportunity to restore and modernise a detached pre-1900 house in a village location.
