Enjoying a prime position on Broad Street in the heart of historic Ludlow — just a stone's throw from Castle Square and the magnificent Ludlow Castle — this beautifully presented Grade II listed townhouse offers elegant, character-filled accommodation arranged over four floors. A rare opportunity to secure a substantial and beautifully maintained period home on one of Ludlow's most prestigious streets. Viewing is highly recommended. EPC exempt.

A recessed period doorway opens into a welcoming reception hall with attractive tiled flooring and an archway leading through to the dining room. Here, a striking stained-glass window and marble fireplace, (with a gas fire) create a refined space ideal for entertaining.

The kitchen/breakfast room enjoys a large sash window overlooking Broad Street with a charming window seat beneath. Fitted with solid oak cabinetry, granite worktops and integrated appliances, it provides both practicality and style, with ample space for everyday dining. To the rear, a lobby gives access to a useful storage area in the rear hall while the cellar level is cleverly arranged to provide a useful utility area and separate store.

On the first floor, the sitting room is a standout feature two sash windows flood the room with natural light, while exposed beams and an attractive fireplace with wood-burning stove add warmth and character. Also on this level is a versatile study or fourth bedroom with cast iron fireplace, together with a cloakroom.

The second floor is dedicated to the principal suite. The bedroom overlooks Broad Street and retains period detailing, complemented by a separate dressing area with fitted wardrobes and a well-appointed en-suite bathroom featuring both bath and shower.

The third floor provides two further double bedrooms, both enjoying front-facing sash windows and characterful timbering. A family bathroom serves this level, and access leads to a delightful roof terrace, an ideal spot to relax and take in far-reaching rooftop views towards the surrounding countryside.
