Sam says:

“Located in a quiet cul-de-sac, there’s a real sense of peace and privacy here, especially with the green space to the front and open fields just beyond. It’s the kind of setting that feels tucked away, yet still really connected. There’s a lovely park nearby for children, and I particularly like the private pathway that leads straight into the village, it just makes day-to-day life that bit easier, especially with great transport links close at hand too.

As soon as you step inside, the house feels bright, modern, and incredibly well looked after. The layout works really well, it flows naturally from room to room and gives a great sense of space without feeling overwhelming. For me, the real highlight has to be the kitchen diner at the rear. It’s a fantastic, contemporary space that’s clearly been designed with both everyday living and entertaining in mind. I can easily picture friends and family gathering here, with the doors open out onto that beautiful south-facing garden.

Upstairs, the bedrooms are all well-proportioned, which is always appreciated. The main bedroom has its own ensuite, which adds a nice touch of privacy, and the remaining rooms are served by a smart, modern family bathroom. There’s also a downstairs WC, which I know makes a big difference for busy households. The garden is another feature I really like, it feels private and nicely enclosed, with plenty of space to sit out, entertain, or just enjoy the sun throughout the day. It’s clear the current owners have taken great care of both the inside and outside, so it genuinely feels ready for someone to move straight into and enjoy.

To the front, there’s ample driveway parking as well as access to the garage, all set within this really sought-after and peaceful spot. Overall, I think this is a superb example of a modern family home, it strikes a great balance between style, comfort, and practicality, all in a fantastic village location”.

A message from the seller:

"Our home has been a truly special place for us over the past few years, and leaving it behind is not easy. We've loved the friendly village feel, with everything from cosy local pubs to scenic marina walks right on our doorstep. More recently, since we've had our two daughters, we've come to appreciate the fantastic green spaces, parks, and family-friendly amenities nearby, which have made it such a wonderful place to spend time together. The sense of community here is something we'll always cherish, with kind neighbours who quickly became friends. We're certain whoever moves in will enjoy this home and the area just as much as we have".
