The vendor has informed us that there is a Deed of Covenant in place relating to Flat 45 (the property below). This deed sets out an agreement between the respective property owners concerning responsibilities for building insurance and maintenance. Specifically, it outlines the arrangements for how the cost and organisation of insurance coverage and any necessary maintenance or repairs to the building are to be managed and shared between the parties. This ensures clarity regarding each party's obligations and helps prevent disputes should any building-related works or insurance matters arise in the future.
