DESCRIPTION

A substantial and characterful Victorian former mill comprising a spacious principal residence, an attached annexe incorporating the historic mill workings and three former holiday cottages, all set within grounds extending to approximately 2.64 acres.

The property has been in the same family ownership for almost fifty years and presents an increasingly rare opportunity to acquire a lifestyle property with considerable versatility and potential.

Whilst now requiring a degree of modernisation and improvement, the property offers extensive accommodation suitable for multigenerational living, home working, income generation or a combination thereof. The retained mill features provide a fascinating reminder of the property's former use and combine with the attractive setting to create a unique country property.

MAIN HOUSE

The stone-built former miller's house offers flexible family accommodation. A triple-aspect sitting room with woodburner, kitchen/dining room, playroom or office, utility room which are complemented by three first-floor bedrooms, a family shower room and an bedroom/ attic room above.

The house would benefit from modernisation but enjoys a charming setting overlooking the grounds.

ANNEXE/FORMER MILL WORKS

Formed from the original mill building, the annexe retains impressive stone grindstones and exposed timber machinery, reflecting the property's heritage. The accommodation includes an open-plan kitchen/living room, first-floor bedroom and bathroom, providing useful ancillary accommodation.

HOLIDAY COTTAGES

Converted from traditional stone barns during the late 1980s, the three cottages were previously operated as a successful holiday letting business before being retained for family use, offering excellent potential for guest accommodation or holiday letting.

As shown on the floorplans, the accommodation comprises two two-storey cottages, one with two bedrooms and one with a single bedroom, together with a further predominantly single-storey two-bedroom cottage incorporating an attic bathroom.

GROUNDS

Approached from a quiet council lane, the property enjoys ample parking, lawns, a pond adjoining the Umborne Brook and gently rising grounds beyond. Further features include polytunnels, timber stables, a shed and stone garage. Previously cultivated as a productive vegetable garden, the land offers excellent potential for gardening and smallholding interests. A footpath leads through the parking area and across a footbridge over the stream. Please note the mineral rights were reserved in 1919.

SERVICES

Mains electric, PV panels. Private water supply via a well, with a UV water treatment system installed in 2025 and recently tested. Private sewage treatment plant installed in 2021. Heating via woodburners in main house, electric heating in annexe and cottages. Ultra fast broadband, mobile signal, good outdoor Three and Vodafone, limited with EE, none with O2 (ofcom).

FLOOD RISK

Part of the property lies within a flood risk zone due to its historic mill setting beside the Umborne Brook. It is understood the house has not flooded during the current family's ownership of almost 50 years.
