We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example, we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale.

6 Bedroom 2 Reception 1 Bathroom

7 West Terrace, Eastbourne, BN21 4QX

GUIDE PRICE £480,000 - £500,000

Offered to the market chain free, this substantial three storey period property presents an exceptional opportunity for investors, business owners or those seeking highly versatile accommodation. The lower ground floor is currently arranged as a clinic with its own private entrance, comprising an office, three treatment rooms (two of which were originally one larger room), a WC and direct access to the rear garden. Subject to the necessary consents, the property lends itself perfectly to conversion into a House in Multiple Occupation (HMO) or three self contained apartments. Equally, the original internal staircase between the lower ground floor and hall floor remains in place, concealed behind a stud wall, and could be easily reopened to restore the property as one impressive family home. The upper floors currently provide a spacious three bedroom maisonette with its own private entrance, featuring two reception rooms, a kitchen and family bathroom. Ideally located within easy reach of Eastbourne's town centre, mainline railway station and award winning seafront, this is a rare opportunity offering outstanding flexibility and future potential.
