Garden

Bryncerdd sits in a large relatively flat plot which is bound by fencing to the rear and open to the front. To the front there is off road parking for one car and gravel flower beds planted with a provision of mature shrubs. To the rear the garden has been landscaped with gravel walkways between the flower beds planted with mature shrubs and Japanese garden, with raised vegetable planters creating a low maintenance garden. There is a large timber deck off the dining room, an insulated timber summer house with power taking in the wonderful rural views as well as a further timber shed for storage and log store.

The back of the property benefits from a West facing aspect with sunrise in the mornings to the front rooms, travelling over the house providing hours of sunshine to the back garden and wonderful sunsets to enjoy from the summer house at the end of the day.

Services

Bryncerdd is connected to mains electricity, water and drainage. Central heating is by the oil fired boiler, supplying radiators throughout. and this is supplemented by the multi-fuel stove in the lounge.

The bunglaow also features photovoltaic solar panels, which hold a contract until April 2036 - these provide an abundance of hot water which is generated throughout the year, with slightly less output on very dull winter days. The panels currently generate an income, on average of £2,000 per year, index-linked, tax free.
