The Old Station House Gill's Green, Hawkhurst, Kent TN18 5ER

£1,197,000

Set within approximately four acres of gardens, paddock and grounds, The Old Station House is a wonderfully characterful and substantial 5-bedroom country home offering an exceptional blend of period charm, versatile accommodation and impressive ancillary buildings, all positioned within the highly regarded Wealden hamlet of Gill's Green on the outskirts of Hawkhurst being within the sought after Cranbrook School Catchment Area.

Description

This handsome and distinctive family home is rich in character throughout, with generous proportions, multiple reception spaces and an abundance of original features, creating a warm and welcoming atmosphere ideally suited to both family living and entertaining.

The heart of the home is the beautifully appointed kitchen, fitted with a traditional gas-fired AGA, electric hob and extensive preparation space, opening seamlessly into a superb open-plan breakfast and dining area with central island and tiled flooring. Complementing the main living space is a practical utility room with shower and WC.

The ground floor offers a remarkable degree of flexibility, featuring a large reception hall, a comfortable principal sitting room with wooden flooring and gas fire, together with a second sitting room centred around a wood-burning stove. Further accommodation includes two separate study areas/home offices, ideal for modern remote working, alongside additional storage space. Two independent staircases enhance the home's character and functionality.

On the first floor, the property provides five well-proportioned bedrooms. The principal suite benefits from an en-suite bathroom with shower over bath, while two further bedrooms feature built-in wardrobes, one also enjoying an adjoining dressing room. A stylish family bathroom serves the remaining bedrooms and includes a separate walk-in shower.

Exterior: Approached via a side driveway, the property enjoys expansive gardens and grounds extending to approximately four acres, including a two-acre paddock and stable facilities, making it particularly attractive for equestrian or lifestyle buyers.

A range of outbuildings further enhances the property's appeal, including a workshop, treatment room, garden outbuilding and additional stores. Of particular note is the substantial hobby barn/store, which already benefits from planning permission and is currently used as a summer house and offers exciting potential for conversion into ancillary accommodation and substantial holiday let income, subject to the necessary planning consents.

Additional features include a detached cabin connected to the main house, double garage and further useful outbuildings.

Combining countryside charm with outstanding versatility, The Old Station House represents a rare opportunity to acquire a unique Kentish country home with extensive lifestyle potential in one of the area's most sought-after semi-rural settings.
