We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example, we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale.

£550,000

37 St. Martins Road, Eastbourne, BN22 0LG

A modern detached family home with excellent kerb appeal, constructed only a few years ago and finished to a high specification throughout. Beautifully presented and brightly appointed, the property offers generous proportions ideal for contemporary family living, including a bay fronted sitting room, separate study, ground floor WC, stylish fitted kitchen diner with patio doors opening onto the South facing rear garden, and a separate utility room. To the first floor are four generous double bedrooms, including a spacious principal bedroom with ensuite, together with a modern family bathroom. Externally, the property benefits from a front lawned garden with off road parking leading to a garage and a large South facing rear garden, creating an excellent space for outdoor entertaining and family enjoyment. Situated in the sought after Lower Willingdon area, the property is popular for its excellent school catchments and convenient access to local amenities, whilst being within easy reach of the South Downs, town centre and seafront.
