£450,000
Freehold

Property Introduction

'Treville' benefits from three bedrooms, there is a well-proportioned lounge which enjoys an outlook over the garden to the front and the kitchen/diner has been remodelled with attractive units incorporating a comprehensive range of appliances.

Leading off from the kitchen/diner is a utility/porch and the bathroom has been refitted, again with a contemporary theme.

The windows and doors are uPVC double glazed and heating is provided by an oil fired boiler.

It is worthy of note that there are 'Velux' rooflights installed in the loft and subject to any required consents, this may be suitable for conversion.

To the outside the front garden is attractively presented with a feature pond and mature shrubs and hedging screening the bungalow from the road. There is driveway parking to the side and access to the detached garage.

The rear garden is major asset, having a formal lawn with steps leading up to a large mainly lawned garden, ideal for children and growing vegetables etc., There is a substantial shed and an aluminium framed greenhouse.

In total, the plot size is approaching one quarter of an acre.

In summary, a superb property that warrants a closer inspection to be fully appreciated and viewing our interactive virtual tour is strongly recommended prior to arranging a viewing.

Location

Situated within a mile of the A30 and one and a half miles from Redruth town, the harbour and sandy beach at Portreath is within three miles.

The ancient mining town of Redruth has both national and local shopping outlets, there is a mainline Railway Station with direct routes to London and the north of the country. The town is also home to Kresen Kernow which houses the world's largest collection of Cornish history and is a mecca for those researching their family's past.

Truro, the cultural and commercial centre for Cornwall is within a short commute and Falmouth which is Cornwall's university town on the south coast will be found within thirteen miles.
