

Converted from a former workshop, 2B Curzon Street is a well-planned three-bedroom home set in a convenient West Reading location close to Reading West station and Oxford Road amenities.

The ground floor is arranged with a separate kitchen, a downstairs WC and a living/dining room opening directly onto the courtyard garden. The kitchen has been refurbished with modern cabinetry, integrated cooking appliances and underfloor heating, while the main reception room provides clear space for both seating and dining.

Upstairs, there are three bedrooms and a bathroom, giving the property a practical layout for a couple, small family, commuter buyer or investor. The enclosed courtyard garden is low maintenance, with paved seating space and room for planting.
