No Chain! - A Charming 18th-Century Cottage with Historic Features and Secluded Rural Views!

A beautifully restored 18th-century three-bedroom cottage with character in every corner— once a chapel, bakery, and post office, this historic home offers the rare blend of peaceful rural seclusion and warm village community. Set in the picturesque village of Waen near Denbigh, the property enjoys stunning countryside views, modern upgrades, and expansive outdoor space including an orchard and paddock.

Lovingly updated throughout, the property benefits from a range of modern improvements—such as a contemporary kitchen, updated electrics, and central heating—while carefully preserving its original charm. Period features, including exposed beams, original fireplaces, and traditional sash windows, provide timeless character. The property comprises two reception rooms, a kitchen, a ground-floor shower room, and three bedrooms on the first floor as well as a study/dressing room. Externally, the property is set on a generous plot with a lawned garden, paddock/orchard and off-street parking. Set in a sought-after location, this home is ideal for those looking to enjoy the warmth of historic architecture with the comfort and convenience of modern living. EPC Rating: E41.

Accommodation

On the ground floor, the home includes a spacious lounge with multi-fuel stove and exposed stonework, a dining room with solid wood floors, a charming kitchen with slate flooring and optional solid oak units, and a modern shower room fitted in 2024. There is also a ground floor pantry/utility room with space for laundry appliances.

Upstairs offers three generous bedrooms, including one with a dressing room/office and en-suite cloakroom (with plumbing for a future shower), plus a small upper utility room with washing machine and tumble dryer for added convenience.

A solid oak door with an intricately designed stained glass window opens from the newly laid patio and decorative fencing into:

Lounge
