A DECEPTIVELY SPACIOUS, TWO DOUBLE-BEDROOM, FIRST-FLOOR (TOP) APARTMENT WITH ITS OWN SOUTH-FACING COVERED BALCONY AND GARAGE

Occupying a prime location on the corner of Little Crescent and Romney Road, Rottingdean, with sea views and a private south-facing balcony, the property is within a short walk of Saltdean Lido and Rottingdean Village and beach. The village itself offers an array of independent shops, convenience stores, cafes and restaurants, as well as a traditional butcher, greengrocer and Post Office.

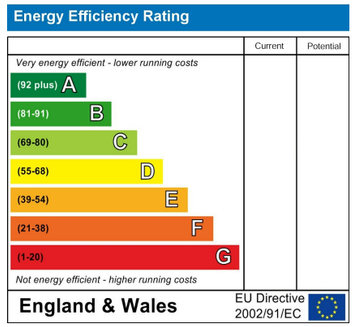

The property has its own private ground floor entrance which opens into a hallway with stairs leading up to the first-floor accommodation and into the spacious open-plan living/dining room. The dining area has a south-facing double-glazed window with sea views, an over-stairs storage cupboard, central ceiling light, and opens through to the living area with sliding double-glazed patio doors onto the south-facing covered balcony, again with direct sea views overlooking the communal gardens, and having two wall light points.

The separate kitchen, with double-glazed window and fully tiled walls and floor, is fitted with white wall and base units, roll-edge worktops with a ceramic hob and 'Newhome' fan-assisted oven below, a one-and-a-half bowl stainless steel sink with drainer, and plumbing for a washing machine.

A glazed door leads from the living room to an inner hallway with two storage cupboards, and the two double bedrooms – both with double-glazed windows overlooking Romney Road – the main bedroom having built-in wardrobes.

There's a family bathroom with obscure double-glazed window and a modern white suite comprising panelled bath with thermostatic shower over, a vanity floor unit with inset wash basin and mixer tap, and low-level WC, along with modern ceramic wall tiles with co-ordinating floor tiles and a chrome heated towel rail.

Rottingdean offers excellent connectivity, with Brighton mainline railway station just a 20-minute bus journey away and excellent road links to the A27 and A23 network, providing convenient access to Gatwick and London. Brighton's iconic Palace Pier is also within a 15-minute drive. There are excellent local primary schools in the village, and Roedean School and Brighton College are within a 10-minute drive.
