Superb Period Detached House in the Charming Village of Great Ecclestone

Originally the Old Post Office of the village, this property dates back to 1796. The current owner has fully refurbished it while retaining many original period features. The house is fully double-glazed and gas centrally heated, offering two reception rooms, a large family dining kitchen, a utility room, and a separate ground-floor shower room. A rear cloaks area leads to a private garden. There are three generously sized bedrooms and a family bathroom. This immaculate home must be viewed to fully appreciate its charm.
