Description

As you enter the bungalow, you are welcomed into a practical kitchen, complete with a useful walk-in pantry to the left. The heart of the home is the cosy lounge, featuring a recessed fireplace with an LPG remote-controlled log effect fire, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. Picture windows adorn the lounge, providing lovely views of the south-facing enclosed lawned garden, which is beautifully framed by mature trees and shrubs.

From the lounge, you can access the rear porch and the second double bedroom. The kitchen also leads to a well-appointed shower room, as well as a dining room that flows seamlessly into the master bedroom. This spacious master suite boasts stunning views across the valley and includes an ensuite shower room for added convenience.

Outside, the property is set within a generous garden, offering ample parking and a stone-built workshop complete with a shower room and a log-burning stove, perfect for hobbies or additional storage. The highlight of this property is undoubtedly the detached annex, known as The Smithy, which was formerly a blacksmith's forge. This charming space features a lounge with a wood-burning stove, a kitchen, a shower room, and a first-floor mezzanine bedroom, making it an ideal space for relatives or as an Airbnb rental.

With Harrogate just a 20-minute drive away, residents can enjoy the best of both worlds—peaceful rural living with easy access to the amenities of a vibrant town. This property is a wonderful canvas for those looking to modernise and make it their own.
