Barnwood was originally a small village on the Roman road that links Gloucester with Hucclecote, Brockworth and Cirencester. It is situated between Abbeymead and Hucclecote and offers an ideal location for families and working professionals being only 2.5 miles from the historic city centre. There is also a Sainsburys, a post office, a veterinary surgery and Barnwood C of E Primary School. St Lawrence Church is within close proximity alongside Barnwood Park and Arboretum which is a Natural area with formal gardens, walking paths, a pond and farm animals. The arboretum was once home to Barnwood House Hospital which closed in 1968 due to financial difficulty and was eventually demolished in the year 2000. The Friends of Barnwood Arboretum & Park organise events throughout the year to encourage local citizens to use the area in an educational manner.
