EXTERNAL - FRONT

The property occupies an imposing plot, set well back from Silksworth Lane and enjoying a vehicle cul-de-sac position. An immaculately maintained show lawn is complemented by beautifully tended borders, while a generous multi-car driveway leads to the detached double garage. A gently sloping block-paved pathway approaches GRP double-glazed entrance doors.

ENTRANCE PORCH

An impressive formal entrance with LVT wood-effect flooring laid in a herringbone pattern. Double-glazed windows sit either side of the entrance doors and an open-plan doorway leads into the main entrance hall.

ENTRANCE HALL

A particularly impressive and spacious hallway with carpeted flooring, column-style radiator, wall panelling to waist height and an open-plan oak staircase rising to the first floor. The hall connects the principal ground-floor rooms with doors leading to the formal lounge, secondary reception room, dining kitchen and ground-floor bedroom suite.

FORMAL LOUNGE

Measurements from widest points, including the bay window. A generous formal reception room with carpeted flooring, double-glazed bay window providing pleasant front-facing views, two column-style radiators and a stylish oak-finish fireplace incorporating an electric fire with granite hearth. Bi-folding doors connect the lounge with the formal dining room.

FORMAL DINING ROOM

A substantial extension to the original property, creating an impressive formal dining and entertaining space with continuation of the carpeted flooring from the lounge. Four double-glazed windows together with two double-glazed roof windows flood the room with natural light and provide attractive views across the rear garden. Two vertical designer-style radiators complete the space, which is sufficiently generous to comfortably accommodate the current owners' substantial ten-seat dining table and is perfect for entertaining. The room flows seamlessly into the extended breakfasting kitchen, creating a particularly impressive arrangement across the rear of the property.
