Situated on the edge of the thriving market town of Kendal, this traditional stone-built mid-terraced property is offered with no onward chain. Retaining many period features, it offers generously proportioned, naturally light accommodation. The ground floor comprises a cosy, bay windowed living room and a family dining/sitting room, each with a capped gas connection point, alongside a separate kitchen with utility area. On the first floor, there are two bedrooms and a bathroom, with concealed stairs leading to a developed loft providing an additional loft room, which has potential to be utilised as a third bedroom subject to the necessary permissions, and access to eaves storage. Outside, a walled courtyard patio offers space for a table, chairs and potted plants, with access to a workshop fitted with electric light and power, as well as an open store.
