Joules are delighted to bring to the market this charming two double bedroom period cottage, dating back to the 1880s and ideally positioned within the heart of the sought-after Heaton Mersey Conservation Area. Positioned on an attractive cobbled cul-de-sac, the property benefits from off-road parking and beautifully maintained gardens to both the front and rear.

Believed to have originally been built for supervisors of the nearby Bleach Works, this deceptively spacious period home retains a wealth of character whilst offering modern conveniences throughout. The accommodation briefly comprises an entrance hall, separate dining room, lounge and modern fitted kitchen. To the first floor are two generously proportioned double bedrooms, a versatile additional room currently utilised as a dressing room, but equally suited to use as a home office, together with a modern bathroom.

Externally, the front of the property features a long, established garden with well-stocked borders and a flagged hardstanding providing valuable off-road parking. To the rear is a private enclosed courtyard with a paved patio area and raised planted beds, providing an ideal space for relaxing outdoors and entertaining.

Heaton Mersey is renowned for its excellent location, offering a wealth of amenities and facilities associated with the village, whilst providing convenient access to Stockport, Manchester and surrounding areas. There are excellent transport links, with easy access to the M60 and M56 motorways, A34 Kingsway and East Didsbury Metrolink station. Manchester Airport is approximately 25 minutes' drive away.

Heaton Mersey Common is also just a short stroll from the property, offering over 11 acres of woodland and open spaces, ideal for walking and recreation. Families are well catered for with a selection of reputable local primary and secondary schools within walking distance.

Offered for sale with no vendor chain, this charming period cottage is sure to appeal to a wide range of buyers. Early viewing is highly recommended to fully appreciate the accommodation, character and location on offer.
