"This is the first house I have bought on my own, and I have poured love into every corner of it. My favourite moment is heading upstairs to the living room at the end of the day. Tucked under the roof, with the light pouring in and views stretching towards the hills south of Bristol, it's a calm, bright space to unwind. It's such a light-filled home, and I have enjoyed finding clever ways to make every inch work. It's also been a treat being so close to so many green spaces and the cycle path."
