Denise White Estate Agents Comments

Steeped in history and surrounded by the breathtaking landscapes of the Peak District, The Retreat is a home quite unlike any other. This remarkable former chapel, dating back to the early 19th century and Grade II* listed, has been extensively and thoughtfully renovated by the current owners to create a truly exceptional family home, where original character takes centre stage alongside beautifully considered modern living.

Originally restored in 1852, the property has a fascinating history that stretches back even further. Today, it combines the atmosphere and architectural detail of its former life with the comfort and quality expected of a contemporary home.

Its setting is every bit as special. Positioned in the heart of Hollinsclough, alongside the iconic Dragon's Back, the property enjoys some remarkable Peak District countryside literally on its doorstep, whilst remaining within easy reach of the popular market town of Buxton and its excellent range of shops, restaurants, cafés and everyday amenities.

Entering the property, a spacious entrance hallway immediately gives a sense of the scale and character found throughout. The staircase rises to the first floor, while the hallway opens into a magnificent open-plan living kitchen space.

At the heart of the home is the impressive kitchen and entertaining area, combining bespoke cabinetry, quartz work surfaces and a beautifully crafted central island. Generously proportioned and designed with entertaining very much in mind, this is a space around which friends and family can naturally gather – quite simply, the true hub of the home.

Alongside the kitchen is a spacious lounge area, where vaulted ceilings and exposed beams create an incredible sense of scale, warmth and heritage. A remote-controlled log-burning-effect gas fired stove provides an attractive focal point, adding to the cosy atmosphere of this exceptional room.

From the kitchen, a hallway leads through to a formal dining room, providing ample space for a substantial dining table and offering the perfect setting for family occasions and entertaining larger numbers. Doors lead from the dining room to two ground-floor double bedrooms, both generous in proportion and easily accommodating bedroom furniture.

A small inner hallway leads to a superb family bathroom, fitted to an exceptional standard with high-quality fixtures and fittings. A freestanding double-ended bath takes centre stage, complemented by a walk-in shower with rainfall shower head.

The first floor provides two further double bedrooms, each with its own distinctive character.

The principal bedroom is positioned to the side of the property and benefits from dual-aspect windows, taking in views across the surrounding countryside. It is complemented by a stunning en suite shower room, finished to the same high standard found throughout the home.

Bedroom four is arranged in a wonderful mezzanine style, with windows overlooking the impressive living area below. Beautiful exposed stone walls and timber beams reinforce the property's historic character, whilst a further stylish en suite shower room provides a luxurious finishing touch.

With four bedrooms, three bathrooms and a wealth of individual character throughout, every room offers something distinctive, while the extensive renovation has brought the property effortlessly into the present day.

Externally, The Retreat occupies a good-sized plot, which has been fully paved to provide an attractive yet low-maintenance outdoor space. There is ample room for al fresco dining and entertaining, together with plenty of space for children to play and pets to roam securely. Off-road parking is provided for approximately two to three vehicles.

And then there is the setting. Situated in the centre of Hollinsclough, with some of the Peak District's most remarkable countryside quite literally on the doorstep, this is a home that offers far more than exceptional accommodation. Whether enjoying the changing seasons, exploring the surrounding landscape or simply taking in the views, the location forms a huge part of what makes The Retreat so special.

A fascinating piece of history, thoughtfully transformed for modern living, and set within one of England's most beautiful landscapes.

Location

Hollinsclough is a beautiful Peak District village, surrounded by some of the area's most spectacular countryside, with the iconic Dragon's Back providing a truly memorable backdrop. It offers a peaceful rural lifestyle with wonderful walking and cycling directly from the doorstep, whilst retaining a strong village community.

The village is home to Hollinsclough C of E Primary School, making it particularly appealing to families, with further schooling and a wider range of amenities available in nearby Buxton, Leek and Bakewell. Buxton, in particular, is within easy reach and provides an excellent selection of shops, cafés, restaurants, leisure facilities and everyday services.

For those looking to enjoy the beauty of the Peak District without being completely removed from everyday conveniences, Hollinsclough offers a wonderfully balanced lifestyle — peaceful, picturesque and surrounded by nature, yet within easy reach of the area's popular market towns.

Why We Love This Home!

In our opinion, what really makes The Retreat special is the feeling you get when you walk through the door. There is so much history and character here, but it doesn't feel like you are living in an old building — the renovation has been done so beautifully that it feels like a genuinely comfortable and luxurious family home. We particularly love the attention to detail and the quality of the finishes, which have been chosen to complement the original features rather than compete with them. And then you step outside and realise just how special the setting is. With the Peak District countryside all around you and the Dragon's Back on the doorstep, this is one of those homes where the location is every bit as memorable as the house itself. It is a property that feels special from the moment you arrive, and one we think will leave a lasting impression.
