Ardwyn

Set on a quiet residential street in the sought after suburb of Pantmawr, this extended semi detached home offers generous living space, a large garden and a well balanced layout suited to modern family life. The house has been carefully maintained and tastefully presented, with an extended kitchen at the rear and a series of interconnected reception areas that create an easy, natural flow from the front lounge through to the dining and sitting space. French doors open directly onto the garden, allowing the rear of the house to feel bright and connected to the outdoors throughout the day.

Pantmawr sits comfortably between the established villages of Rhiwbina and Whitchurch, two of the most popular residential areas in north Cardiff. Both offer a lively mix of independent shops, cafés, restaurants and everyday amenities, together with a strong sense of community. The property is well placed for a selection of respected primary and secondary schools, making it a practical choice for families at different stages.

Green space is a defining feature of the area. The nearby Forest Farm Nature Reserve and the Taff Trail provide miles of walking and cycling routes, linking north Cardiff with the city centre and beyond. For commuters, Coryton Railway Station is approximately half a mile away, offering regular services into Cardiff Central, while the A470 and M4 are easily accessible for travel across south Wales and into England. This combination of village atmosphere, convenient transport and open green spaces continues to make Pantmawr a highly desirable place to call home.
