Set in a quiet rural spot in West Sandford, this three-bedroom cottage offers a solid starting point for someone keen to take on a renovation project and shape a home to suit their own ideas.

The house sits within a generous plot, with a large garden that gives plenty of room to rework the outdoor space or explore extending the house, subject to the usual consents. Inside, the layout is straightforward and practical, with three bedrooms and scope to rethink how the rooms connect as part of a wider update.

A detached garage sits alongside the road, with further potential to create additional parking if needed. The setting is peaceful and feels well set in the countryside, while still being within easy reach of Crediton for shops, schools and transport links.

Available without an onward purchase involved, this is a chance to take on a project at your own pace and create a comfortable rural home with space around it and long-term flexibility. We have added some 'virtually renovated' pictures as suggestions to show the potential here.

SANDFORD is a pretty and popular village lying, as it does, about a mile and a half north of Crediton and just nine and a half miles from Exeter. The centre of the village sits around the square where both The Lamb Inn and the community-run village stores and post office can be found. For outdoor pursuits, the village also has two recreation grounds, a tennis court, and a dedicated footpath/cycle path that takes users safely off road to Crediton. A thriving community also ensures plenty of activities are going on throughout the year many of which centre around the well-patronised village hall. The primary school (OFSTED Good) offers wrap around care and a pre-school nursery welcoming 3- to 5-year-olds, and is another draw for families seeking a small but vibrant environment in which to raise their children.

DIRECTIONS : From Sandford village square, take the road to the left of the Lamb Inn and head towards West Sandford, take a right turn and the cottage can be found along to the right.
