ACCOMMODATION

Please see the floorplan for room measurements and the property layout.

Internally, the property displays a wealth of original character and period detailing synonymous with its 1930s origins. The elegant principal reception room is centred around an original Claygate fireplace and enhanced by attractive feature side windows, while French doors open directly onto the front lawn, framing the exceptional outlook beyond and creating a seamless connection between the house and its delightful setting.

As depicted via the floorplan the ground floor offers two beautifully proportioned reception rooms, providing considerable flexibility for both formal entertaining and relaxed family living, as well as the option for a dedicated home office. A separate, well-appointed kitchen serves the accommodation with ease, and the overall arrangement has been meticulously maintained by the current owners, resulting in a home of warmth, balance, and enduring appeal.

A striking leaded feature window illuminates the staircase, showcasing the craftsmanship and architectural character of the period. The generous first-floor landing forms an impressive central space from which three well-proportioned bedrooms, a family bathroom and a useful loft room are accessed. The principal bedroom particularly enjoys magnificent far-reaching views, further emphasising the property's enviable position.

Outside, the rear garden is a notable feature of the property. Beautifully established and thoughtfully tended, it provides an idyllic setting for family life, al fresco entertaining and keen gardeners alike. Of particular convenience is the footpath leading from the rear garden directly onto Westbury Road, emerging opposite the entrance to Redmaids' High School, offering exceptional practicality for families together with easy access to local amenities and transport connections.

Further benefits include gas central heating, double glazing and a detached garage. The property also presents exciting scope to extend into the loft space, subject to the necessary planning permissions and building regulations, affording future owners the opportunity to further enhance and tailor this distinguished family home to their own requirements.
