SITUATION

The land is situated on the northern outskirts of the village of Yetminster, which lies close to the Dorset/Somerset border. The land is bounded by the River Wriggle, a tributary of the Rive Yeo. The village is active and benefits from a village store with post office, public house, cafe, primary school, church, sports and social club with playing grounds including tennis court and village hall. There is also a railway station. The larger towns of Yeovil and Sherborne are within 6 miles where an excellent range of shopping, recreational and scholastic facilities can be found, together with a mainline rail link to Exeter and London Waterloo.

DESCRIPTION

The land lies on the northern outskirts of the village, accessed over a track with a metal field gate opening into the paddock. It is level in nature and bounded by hedgerows and is tree lined on two sides, along with some post and wire fencing to the north and eastern boundary.

SERVICES

A mains water supply is connected just inside the farm gate.
