Village Information

The village of Churcover lies four miles north of Rugby, towards the border of the county. The River Swift runs to the north and east of the village, and the Roman road Watling Street from north to west of the village. It used to be predominantly a farming village but in the 19th century many villagers began working in Rugby, in engineering or on the railway.

Agents Note

The house requires general updating throughout, but benefits from a good-sized plot and generous garden, offering clear scope to remodel and improve, subject to obtaining any necessary consents.

Previously there was planning permission in place for an extension which has since lapsed in 2024 R20/0876 However the size and layout of the plot suggest there may be potential for future enlargement, subject to the usual approvals. This will particularly appeal to those seeking a home they can upgrade over time, whether for their own occupation or as a longer-term investment project. <https://planning.agileapplications.co.uk/rugby/application-details/31992>
