Agent's Note - Previous Subsidence

There have been two instances of subsidence in 2007 and 2009. The first was due to cracked drains and the second due to clay shrinkage as a result of trees in a neighbouring property. In both cases full repairs were carried out via insurers (structural repairs only; no underpinning required) and the offending trees removed. Further trees in the neighbouring property have also since been removed. The vendors have not had any other issues since then.

Agent's Note

The property is accessed via a private drive which is shared by three other properties.

Agent's Note - Windows

The property has a combination of UPVC and Aluminium double glazed windows.
