"We love living here, its great to feel like we're part of a community on the street. . Even though we've only been here five years, it holds so many memories, its our first home as a family. We got engaged in the garden here, and basically planned our wedding sat on the sofas on the patio. Its our son's first home too, its the first place we brought him back to. He loves looking out the bay windows on the front and waving at people walking up and down the street."
