

Falkland Road, London, NW5 2PS

£4,500 Per Month

A smashing three storey house, perfectly situated, at the end of a terrace of pastel-coloured houses constructed in the early 19th century, quietly tucked away in a delightful tree-lined residential side-turning, within a very short walk of Kentish Town Underground and Thameslink. Offering 1256 square feet of conveniently arranged family accommodation.

On the ground floor, the entrance being at the side results in a reception space much wider than usual, creating a wonderful entertaining space which affords views through the kitchen to the garden beyond. There is also a bathroom/wc on the ground floor..

On the first floor, a spacious principal bedroom to the front with fitted wardrobes, good size second bedroom, leading to a generous and discreet south-facing terrace and a further small bedroom.

On the top floor is an extremely spacious bedroom with south facing balcony and a further, well-appointed shower room and a smaller room ideal for storage.

- Smashing period end-terrace house
- Wonderful open-plan reception
- Two bathrooms
- Perfect location, moments from the Underground & Thameslink
- Long term let
- Three double bedrooms bedrooms
- Good size kitchen
- Dual-aspect study/ bedroom 4, plus further storage room
- Families only
- Deposit of 5 weeks rent

