Situation

Middleton Cheney is a thriving and highly regarded village in South Northamptonshire, offering a vibrant community and a wide range of amenities not often found in village locations. It is one of the larger villages in the area and is particularly popular with families. The village provides an excellent selection of facilities, including a chemist, parish church, veterinary surgery, library, sports ground, village shop, post office and a choice of well-regarded public houses. The village hall hosts a variety of clubs and societies catering for all ages, contributing to a strong sense of community. Education is a particular strength, with schooling available from pre-school through to sixth form within the village, making it an ideal location for families. The surrounding countryside offers a wealth of walking, cycling and outdoor pursuits, while nearby Banbury provides a more comprehensive range of shopping and leisure facilities, including high street retailers and out-of-town retail parks. Banbury also benefits from a mainline railway station with regular services to London Marylebone and Birmingham, together with access to Junction 11 of the M40 motorway. The nearby market town of Brackley continues to grow and offers additional shopping, leisure and everyday amenities.

Directions

From Banbury Cross proceed out of town to the M40 Junction 11. Take the dual carriageway A422 signposted Middleton Cheney. At the large roundabout take the third exit onto the bypass towards Brackley.
