Positioned within the scattered hamlet of Millhayes, this charming rural setting lies part way down a quiet no through road and backs on to open fields. It sits within the Blackdown Hills National Landscape.

Stockland is 1.2 miles away and offers a primary school, pre school, village hall, ancient church and a well regarded community owned pub. Honiton and Axminster provide a good range of amenities together with stations on the London Waterloo line.

The cottage is built of stone beneath a mainly slate roof and is full of character. It would now benefit from some updating and has predominantly timber windows. The layout is adaptable and includes a ground floor en suite bedroom, sitting room and dining room both with fireplaces, and a kitchen. On the first floor there are two bedrooms and a family shower room.

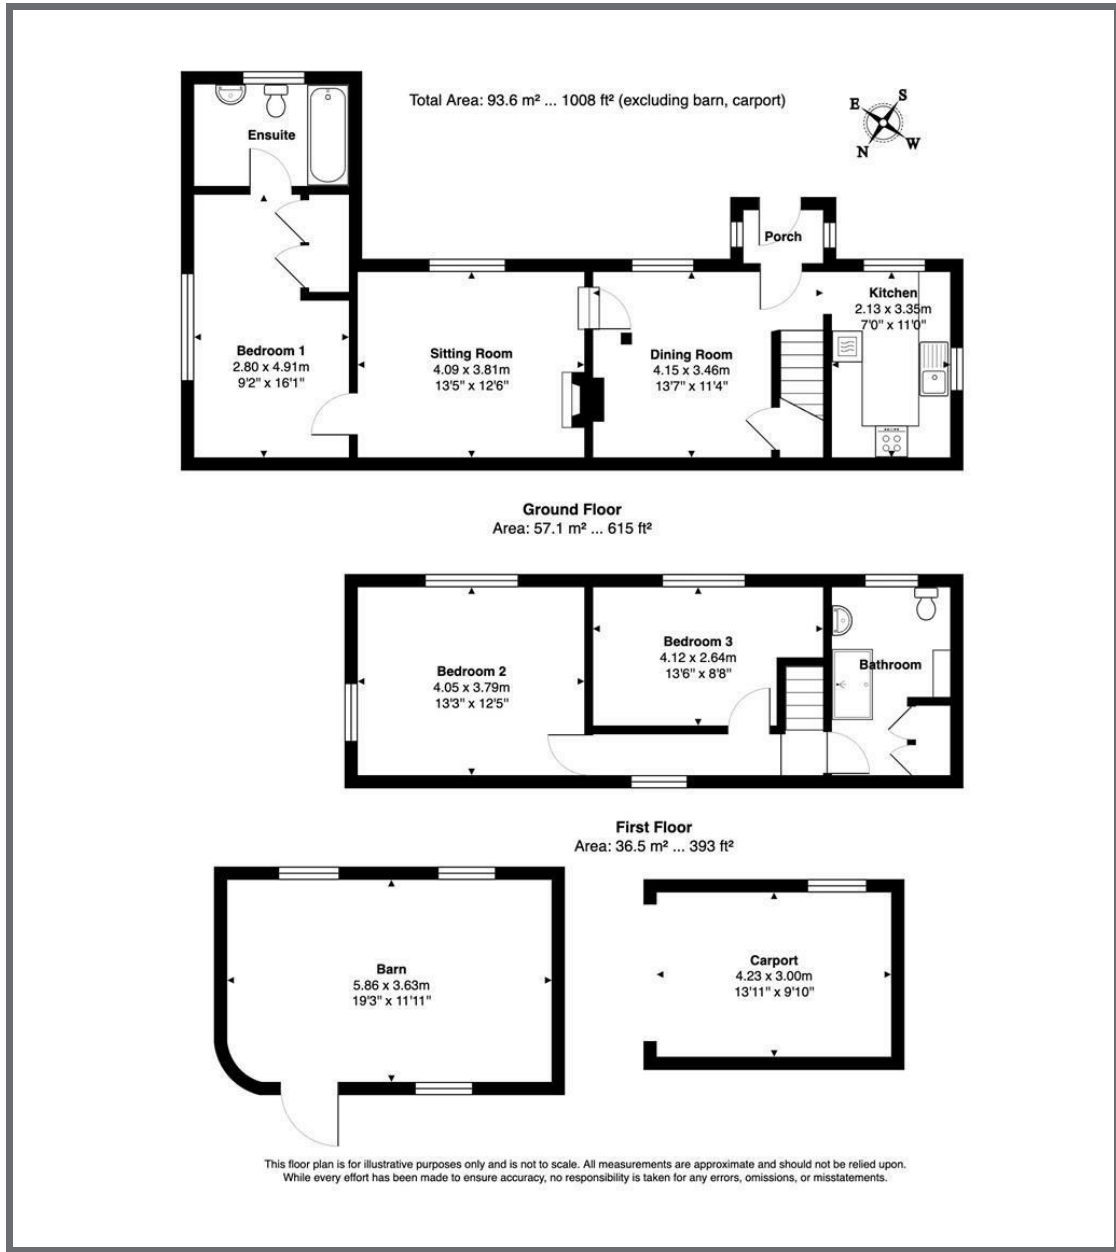

Outside there is parking for 2 vehicles, a single garage or car port and a lovely stone barn. The large gardens extend to about 0.36 acres and are bordered by mature hedge banks backing on to open fields. Laid to lawn with intersecting paths, the gardens include a variety of shrubs and trees.

Services: Mains water and electricity. Private drainage via septic tank (not tested). Broadband is not currently connected although could be via Gigaclear at up to 1,000 Mbps, mobile signal outside is variable on EE, O2, Three and Vodafone according to Ofcom.
