The accommodation itself comprises an entrance hallway, a generous dual-aspect living room, an expansive open-plan kitchen/dining room with the open-plan theme continuing into a modern garden room, a master bedroom suite, three further bedrooms and a family bathroom.

Set back from Holt Lane, hidden by mature mixed hedging, the property frontage, aside from the driveway, is laid to lawn with mature flower and shrub borders alongside a garden fishpond. There is gated side access to both sides of the property with to one side, the path opening to form a relaxing patio seating area, itself enclosed by mature hedging and an attractive Bay Laurel forming an archway. Leading on to the rear garden, also mature and attractive with pastoral views over an adjoining paddock and including flower and shrub borders, ornamental and fruit trees around an area of lawn plus a greenhouse.

The accommodation itself is arranged with a central entrance hallway providing access to the master bedroom suite, family bathroom and bedrooms three and four located on one side of the property. Bedroom four is currently used as an office with the second bedroom across the hallway. The dual-aspect living room takes in views over the front garden with rolling open farmland and mixed woodland beyond and features a wood-burning stove recessed within an original fireplace, set on a slate-tiled hearth. At the rear of the property is the dual-aspect kitchen/dining room with access to the utility and cloakrooms. The utility room has external side access to the patio seating area, whilst to the rear, the light and airy garden room, complete with vaulted ceiling and a Velux window, is positioned to take in views across the rear garden and paddock beyond.

The property can be found on Holt Lane within the parish of Tangley, six miles north-west of Andover and within the southern edge of the North Wessex Downs National Landscape. Nearby village facilities include the church of St Thomas of Canterbury, a village hall, and The Fox Inn, as well as access to numerous public footpaths that allow exploration of the surrounding countryside. Just a mile to the north of the village is the spectacular Hippienscombe Valley with Chute Causeway, a Roman Road traversing the top of the escarpment. The location lends itself perfectly to those who might need to commute into London with a choice of available mainline stations within less than a half-hour drive (Great Bedwyn and Hungerford into Paddington in less than an hour or Andover into Waterloo in just over an hour).
