Once considered one of the most desirable homes within the street, the property still showcases the thoughtful design and investment of its time. From the first-floor bedrooms and the lounge's full-length windows, the home enjoys elevated views across Chatterley Whitfield Country Park, a superb lifestyle asset that enhances the appeal of its setting.

The ground floor centres around a substantial lounge featuring a striking picture-window outlook. From here, double doors lead into an exceptionally sized conservatory. While now requiring attention, this dramatic space highlights the original vision for a versatile room that could serve as a family room, dining area, garden room or multi-use entertaining space once upgraded.

Character features continue throughout, including parquet flooring and a bespoke freestanding kitchen which both nod to the care and craftsmanship which was once invested. Though the interior now needs modernisation, the scale, layout and underlying quality create an outstanding canvas for a future buyer to reimagine.

Upstairs, the home offers three bedrooms and a first-floor bathroom, each with scope for contemporary improvement.

Externally, the property excels. The wraparound gardens incorporate lawned areas, established planting and a feature pond, providing privacy and significant outdoor appeal. To the rear, vehicular access leads to a spacious driveway and a detached garage, ensuring strong practical credentials.

In summary, this is a property with substance, presence and tremendous potential. With its generous plot, elevated views and original architectural touches, it now stands ready for a new owner to restore it to a truly magnificent family home.
