Nestled in the picturesque village of Halland, this wonderful period family home, set within approximately 1.65 acres of extensive mature gardens, offers a truly unique living experience. Inside, the main house boasts four versatile reception rooms, providing ample space for relaxation and entertaining. The ground floor also features two kitchens and a dedicated laundry room, catering to modern family needs. Upstairs, there are four generously proportioned double bedrooms, complemented by a useful loft room for flexible space and additional storage.

Beyond the main house, the property benefits from an detached coach house with an adjoining workshop, offering excellent potential. A detached double garage has been converted into a studio, providing a bright and adaptable space. The extensive gardens are a standout feature, beautifully established and well maintained.
