DC Lane are delighted to present this charming Edwardian mid terrace home, perfectly positioned on a popular Peverell Road. Combining period charm with stylish contemporary finishes, the property enjoys an enviable location close to Hyde Park's parade of shops while the green spaces of Central Park are only a short stroll away, offering an exceptional lifestyle opportunity.

Stepping inside, the home's character is immediately apparent. Elegant stripped floorboards flow through the entrance hall and both reception rooms. The front reception room is centred around a handsome stone fireplace, while the generous second reception room enjoys lovely views over the garden and creates a versatile living and entertaining space. From here, access leads to the first floor and through to the contemporary Magnet Lunar kitchen, with sleek cabinetry and a quality finish blending seamlessly with the property's traditional character. A door from the kitchen opens directly onto the rear garden, creating an effortless connection between indoor and outdoor living.

Upstairs, there are two double bedrooms, with the principal bedroom spanning the full width of the property and period fireplace. A stylish family bathroom finished with Italian tiling and a shower over the bath, serves both bedrooms.

A particular highlight is the south facing courtyard garden, thoughtfully designed as an extension of the living space. With low maintenance composite decking and a private enclosed setting, it provides the perfect spot for morning coffee, al fresco dining and entertaining friends throughout the year. Rear service lane access adds further convenience to this attractive outdoor retreat.

Further benefits include a recently installed boiler, approximately two years old, and an abundance of original features throughout. Beautifully balancing Edwardian character with modern comfort, this delightful home offers a superb opportunity to enjoy one of Plymouth's most sought after residential locations.
