Introduction

Occupying a large plot, this substantial and beautifully maintained four-bedroom semi-detached dormer bungalow offers 163 sqm (approx.) of versatile accommodation, extensive parking and significant potential for future extension (STPP). Viewing is essential to fully appreciate the quality and potential.

Property Description

Built in 1905, the property retains attractive period character while benefiting from modern wiring, fuel-efficient heating systems and a 'C' EPC rating. The home has been meticulously maintained and presented to a high decorative standard throughout.

The house is located close to shops and facilities in Carleton and has easy access to Poulton-le-Fylde and surrounding areas. For those with very young children, there is a nursery nearby and the beaches of the Fylde coast are less than 2 miles away. There is also easy access to several primary and senior schools including Carleton Green, St Hildas, Baines, Hodgson and Blackpool Sixth Form College.

Downstairs, off the enclosed front porch the property features an impressive hallway with stained-glass windows to the entrance, leading to two reception rooms, the downstairs bedroom, and a separate dining room with easy access to a wood effect composite raised decking, allowing for al fresco dining whilst overlooking the mature landscaped rear garden. Off the dining room, there is the fully plumbed utility room with a toilet and a pedestal washbasin. The kitchen is a step down from the dining room and is fitted with a range of floor and wall-mounted units, a stainless steel sink, built in fridge, plumbing for a dishwasher, and a free-standing cooker.

Upstairs, there is a spacious family bathroom with an over-the-bath boiler fed shower, one double bedroom (with fitted wardrobe) overlooking the rear garden, one single bedroom with fitted wardrobe, and one spacious double bedroom with fitted wardrobes and dressing table. Off this bedroom, there is a modern ensuite with wc, pedestal washbasin and shower.

The large rear garden extends to approximately 73 metres in length, offering formal lawns, established herbaceous borders, vegetable and fruit growing areas and a further grassed section ideal for recreation or a children's play area. Although north-facing immediately to the rear, the significant depth of the garden ensures that the majority of the plot enjoys direct southerly sunshine throughout the day, creating both shaded and sunny seating areas as well as opportunities for al fresco dining. STTP there is plenty of space for a garden room or outside study

What The Agent Says

Opportunities to acquire such a spacious and charming Edwardian property set within such a large plot are few and far between in the local area. Families often retain these such properties for decades due to their charm, space, character and lifestyle.

49 Bispham Road has clearly been cherished by the present owners and I imagine will be equally as loved by the incoming new buyers.

What The Owner Says

As we sell our home to move closer to our family in Scotland, we will miss the house's spaciousness and flexibility, as well as our garden. When we bought the house in 1983, the large garden was overgrown, and the house needed refurbishment and modernisation. It has given us great joy to create a very comfortable, modernised home that we love, in keeping with a house built around 1905. It has also given us great satisfaction to create a garden that is a colourful delight in summer and was a safe, spacious area for our children to play in when they were young. With large gardens on either side, bounded by mature trees, the garden area has a peaceful, "oasis-like" feel. As a result, sitting out on our decking or patio in summer has been a delight that we will miss."
