The property comprises an enclosed porch which leads into a large reception hall which could be used as a large study.

With a range of built-in appliances, ample work surfaces, this large room has windows which enjoy lovely views over the rear garden and the backdrop of the rolling countryside beyond. The dining room is authentically decorated and is another good area for either hosting a dinner party or simply relaxing with the family at the end of the day. The formal drawing room can be split into two areas or utilised as one large room.

Seller Insight

“ We immediately fell in love with the beautiful views and how peaceful the garden was.

Having bought further land, we now sit on a large plot and have hosted some wonderful family occasions, at times having nearly two hundred people here.

The house offers fantastic flexibility with spaces to entertain, yet areas to enjoy quiet time.

My wife and I are still mesmerised many years on when we stand and admire the dramatic sunsets we can see from the garden with the views extending for miles.

*We will be sad to say goodbye to a home that has given us such wonderful memories, but it is time to move on, and we hope that whoever takes ownership will be as happy at Stonewalls as we have been.”

The guest bedroom has built-in wardrobes, windows to two elevations and an en-suite with freestanding claw footed bath, in addition to three further double bedrooms and a shower room. The second floor art room is an excellent size and could also be used as a generous office space.

The property also benefits from having a carport and a double and a single garage with a one bedroom annexe above, in addition to a stunning 1.25 acre rear garden with a gently sloping lawn providing views for miles with mature trees and well kept borders.
