Description: 43 Lydd Road is a characterful Grade II listed semi detached house of brick and timber frame construction with painted rendered walls, timber sash and casement glazed windows all beneath a pitched tiled roof. The property is accessed via a pedestrian front gate leading from Station Road, with a concrete path leading through the garden to a central front door. A canopied porch above the front door opens into a generous square main living room with front facing window and large open inglenook fireplace. From the living room is access into a central hallway off which is a second reception room again with front facing window currently being used as a study or possible ground floor bedroom. On the opposite side of the hallway is a ground floor bathroom, with stand along slipper bath, close coupled WC and washbasin with vanity unit below. A cellar door leads from the bathroom to a ladder access entrance down into a large cellar room with brick lined floor. The kitchen/breakfast room is also accessed from the hallway with double aspect windows, newly fitted cream kitchen with laminate worktops, stainless steel sink, ceramic hob with extractor hood above, electric oven, and space and plumbing for a washing machine and tumble dryer. A glazed stable door leads from the kitchen to a glazed enclosed rear porch providing access out to the side garden and access to a detached garage and car parking area. Stairs ascend from the hallway up to a first-floor landing off which is a master double bedroom with central feature fireplace and front facing window and small built-in cupboard. A second double bedroom is also accessed from the landing with front facing window and large under stairs cupboard. A third bedroom is accessed from a staircase leading from the landing up to second floor bedroom with conservation roof light and at the end an ensuite shower room with walk in shower, close coupled WC and wall hung washbasin.

Externally the property benefits from a private southwest facing garden predominantly laid to lawn with side flower beds, while towards the rear is a gravel driveway providing off street parking and access to a detached single garage with electric roller door. Behind the garage is a small garden shed.

The property has been comprehensively refurbished by the owners to create a well-presented property with a wealth of period features throughout.

Location: 43 Station Road is located in the ancient town of Lydd which sits on Denge Marsh, between the shingle peninsula of Dungeness and the rich farmland of Walland Marsh. Among the marsh churches, Lydd's All Saints, known as the "Cathedral of the Marsh", is one of Kent's longest parish churches, with a notably tall tower. The town blends elegant Georgian houses with modern developments. Although seemingly remote, Lydd is well connected, close to Rye, Ashford, Folkestone and Hastings, and offers local amenities, schools, transport links and easy access to London, the Channel Tunnel and the town of Rye.

Schools: Schools in the area include The Marsh Academy in New Romney together with the Folkestone School for Girls, The Harvey Grammar School for boys, Norton Knatchbull Grammar School for boys and Highworth Grammar School for girls both in Ashford, 17 miles to the north.

Travel and Transport: Ashford Station offers commuting services to London via a high speed service to Stratford and London St Pancras in 37 minutes. The Channel Tunnel Terminal near Folkestone is 17 miles and the Ancient Town of Rye, famed for its historical associations and cobbled ways is about 10 miles to the west.
