Step Inside

Welcome to intelligent design and modern comfort where every aspect of the home has been carefully considered to enhance daily living. Bright, well-proportioned spaces filled with natural light are complimented by the south-facing aspect setting, which balances contemporary design with nature and privacy. Stepping through the porch you enter the lobby with cloakroom conveniently on your left. To the right a door leads to a fabulous open planned room, a space built for entertaining young and old alike, with surround sound and cleverly zoned by the current owner, using furniture, ceiling height, and flooring to create rooms within the space. The living area with its high ceiling provides an airy atmosphere and the huge window gives wonderful views across fields below the house and in spite of the huge open planning still feels welcoming and warm. If the sun is too much the thoughtful "brise soleil" provides welcome shade to keep the room cool. The dining area is defined by a lower ceiling and conveniently placed next to the kitchen. The kitchen has a wonderful central island with induction hob and ample worktop space for cooking and baking and has oodles of storage with ceiling to floor cabinetry embracing the American fridge freezer and oven. This is an easy space to cater in when family and friends come to visit, with units either side of the sink housing electric points for appliances. Towards the bedroom corridor is a useful space currently housing a piano and display shelving, which could easily be separated to create an extra reception room if desired.

KEY FEATURES

Sustainability Without Compromise

This is a high performing eco home, reflected in its outstanding EPC rating of A (score 112) an exceptional achievement that places the property among the most energy-efficient homes available. Key sustainability features include 22 solar panels with integrated battery storage; air source heat pump with underfloor heating throughout; triple-glazed windows and doors for superior thermal and acoustic performance; mechanical ventilation with heat recovery (MVHR) system and a rainwater filtration system. Add to this, fibre-to-cabinet broadband connectivity and a comprehensive, modern security system, including alarm system, CCTV and motion detectors offering reassurance whether at home or away, and the result is a home that delivers outstanding comfort, minimal running costs, and a future-proof lifestyle. The property is constructed on piled foundations (pile cap foundations), offering exceptional structural strength and long-term stability with diligence even extending to the exterior, where all drainpipes are internally routed, ensuring clean architectural lines and a sleek, uninterrupted façade.

A Peaceful Night

A corridor defines the sleeping areas with four double bedrooms welcoming family and friends to stay over. All the rooms are south facing with peaceful views over the gardens. The first bedroom off the main room, has its own door to the terrace, and whilst currently a home office, has been used as a crafts room, and would lend itself to use as a playroom, or a gym too- it has versatility to allow the house to grow with you. Just across the hall is the utility area. The second and third bedroom are both generously proportioned and share a chic family shower room. The principal bedroom boasts its own dressing room and spacious ensuite wet room including an extra shower over a bath too, perfect for a soak after a country stroll - you really do have everything you need for a peaceful night's sleep.

Step Outside

A large gravel drive with ample parking for family and friends leads to the integral workshop and double garage which would be an easy conversion to extra accommodation, a games room or gym. The outdoor space is suited to landscaping with plenty of room for a veggie patch and greenhouse, and chickens perhaps. The south facing lawns wrap around the house with an east to west outlook and an attractive deck with room for dining and lounging, encouraging visitors to make the most of the sunshine whatever the time of day. This spot is ingeniously sheltered by the angle of the two wings of the home. The grounds are fully enclosed making a safe environment for children and pets and the outlook is of farmland stretching away allowing you to observe the changing seasons and wildlife that comes with it. Orphan lambs graze the land for a few weeks each year and the land is then left as a wildflower meadow - a beautiful vista to enjoy from the deck. The property has two wild areas itself where hedgehogs snuffle, birds nest and regular visits are made by the local muntjac deer.
