IF YOU LIVED HERE...

The open-plan kitchen, lounge and dining space is bright and sociable, with a generous run of white cabinetry, integrated appliances and room to settle into distinct areas for cooking, eating and relaxing. The green feature wall adds warmth, while the full-height window and door draw the eye out towards the private terrace.

The bedroom sits separately off the hall, with soft neutral tones, a good sense of calm and enough space for freestanding furniture. There's also useful storage, a utility area and a well-finished bathroom with tiled walls, a bath with shower over, and a clean, contemporary feel.

Outside, the private terrace gives you your own pocket of outdoor space, just right for a morning coffee, a few pots and a quiet moment at the end of the day. The home also comes with a share of freehold.

WHAT ELSE?

Wood Street station is moments away, making journeys across East London and beyond simple and straightforward.

Lloyd Park and the William Morris Gallery are both within easy reach for green space, weekend walks and a little local culture.

Wood Street's independent favourites, including Dudley's café and The Flower Pot, and the Wood Street Indoor Market are close by, giving the area its easy, village-like rhythm.

A WORD FROM THE EXPERT...

"I love living in Walthamstow – it's got such a great mix of things going on. Saturdays are my favourite, with the market in Lloyd Park full of fresh food, handmade bits, and plenty of friendly faces. The new Soho Theatre has brought amazing shows right to our doorstep, and if I fancy a pint, the Blackhorse Beer Mile breweries are perfect for a wander. When I need some fresh air, the Walthamstow Wetlands are just a short stroll away – all that greenery makes you completely forget you're in London. Plus, with brilliant transport links, it's so easy to hop on the Tube or Overground and be in Central London in no time at all".
