Horsforth provides an excellent selection of shops, cafés, bars and restaurants, while Rodley is known for its canal-side setting and scenic walking routes. Kirkstall Forge railway station and nearby road links provide convenient connections towards Leeds and Bradford.

A welcoming entrance hallway leads into the impressive L-shaped kitchen, dining and living area, creating a spacious and sociable hub for everyday life. The breathtaking views from the front elevation create a wonderful backdrop and give the room a genuine sense of openness.

The kitchen is fitted with an ample range of wall and base units featuring brushed-steel handles, complementary work surfaces and a tiled splashback. There is an integrated oven, space for additional freestanding appliances and a chrome sink with mixer tap. Its open connection with the living and dining areas makes the space equally suited to relaxing, dining and entertaining.

Both bedrooms are well-proportioned doubles. The principal bedroom benefits from its own en-suite shower room, while the second bedroom provides excellent versatility for guests, home working or additional living space.

The well-maintained house bathroom completes the internal accommodation, fitted with a three-piece suite comprising a bath with shower over, a wash basin with useful storage beneath and a concealed-cistern WC.
