About the area

Newburgh is situated in Fife just over the border from Perthshire and provides a wide range of day-to-day facilities, a primary school and easy commuting access to Perth, Dundee, Cupar and St Andrews.

The conservation burgh of Newburgh established in the 13th century, has many fine recreational areas including parks, a sailing club and easy access walks by the river Tay and in the hills behind and around the town. There are a variety of local shops including a specialist craft shop and an art gallery. There is also a lovingly restored and historically unique distillery at one end of the burgh which brings many international visitors and a famous organic farm shop and restaurant at the other end.

Cupar is just 11 miles away and has a good range of local shops including supermarkets, a selection of pubs and restaurants, leisure facilities including a swimming pool and two golf courses. The cosmopolitan university town of St. Andrews and its world famous golf courses, are only 9 miles away.
