The Property

One will be immediately impressed upon approaching this handsome, distinctive character house which is a joy to view! Initially one leads into the front conservatory/garden room which in turn provides access to the reception hall. Towards the end of this hallway, one will find a cloakroom, together with laundry/boiler room. The main feature of the ground floor is the gracious living room with feature fireplace including wood burner. This leads into the superb conservatory which has underfloor heated Karndean flooring and provides a whole new dimension to the house. This continues into the excellent kitchen/breakfast room suitable for the growing family. To the front of the house on the ground floor one will find a formal dining room, together with a separate music room/library. The original staircase leads to the split level spacious first floor landing which serves all five bedrooms. There is a master bedroom with fitted wardrobes together with en-suite shower room, whilst the guest bedroom is of a vast size and could also be used as the master if so desired. Bedrooms 3 and 4 are both doubles and enjoy views across the cricket ground. There is a 5th bedroom which would probably be more suited as a home office, again with a view across the cricket ground. Well appointed bathroom with separate bath and shower together with linen cupboard.

Outside, a driveway leads via double gates to a detached double garage providing, at the same time, extensive parking. The lovely gardens are well stocked and are well laid out to cater for both entertaining and children's play area on the level lawn. Summerhouse, timber store, outside log store and entertaining areas complete the picture.
