Introduction

The School House is a spacious and inviting home, with much of the original architecture retained including the high vaulted ceiling and three large windows in the living room. The property has accommodation comprising; entrance hall, living room, sitting room, drawing room, kitchen, utility, two downstairs bedrooms with en-suites, bathroom, boiler room and three bedrooms upstairs. The main bedroom benefits from a fitted dressing room and en-suite. There is an outbuilding, driveway parking and views over the Herefordshire countryside. In addition there are solar panels and an air source heat pump.

Property Description

Entry begins through the old boy's entrance of this historic School House and into a hallway displaying red quarry stone tiled flooring (that repeats through into the kitchen/dining room and utility room). There is the facility for hanging coats and hats here. To the left is a utility room with a window overlooking the driveway. There is a sink with cupboards above and below, housing for a washing machine and tumble dryer, work top and sockets for housing additional kitchen appliances and room again for storing outdoor coats, hats and footwear. To the right is a farmhouse style kitchen/dining room. The eye is immediately drawn to the sought after Everhot Range Cooker that not only makes this room forever cosy and welcoming but also allows keen cooks to rustle up hearty meals. Family and friends can sit and take part as the room allows for a large table and chairs to be centrally placed. There is housing for an American style fridge/freezer, integrated dishwasher and a generous array of wall and base units to include those useful pan drawers and pantry type cupboards.

Also, accessed from the hallway and over an intricately painted stone step is a very impressive drawing room that can be used in a number of ways whether dining or relaxing. The current vendors have this room set up as a grand sitting room. The wonders of this room are plentiful and include:

- * A magnificent triad of tall and traditional casement windows that enjoy southerly views across the front garden
- * Original wooden flooring (restored)

- * High vaulted ceiling with intricate A frame detailing
- * Centrally placed fireplace with wooden mantle, tiled surround, stone hearth and inset wood-burner.

To the far end of the drawing room is a second entrance hallway that is entered via a solid wooden front door set into a stone porch. The entrance hall provides ample space for furniture and is adorned with an original school brass bell. To the left is bedroom six which is a double and enjoys a large feature window framing countryside views and built in cupboards and shelving either side of a fireplace that is no longer in use. This room and the one next door would have been part of the old Headmaster's wing and you can certainly imagine a once roaring fire and busy comings and goings here. Even though the room is being used as a bedroom it would lend itself to a multitude of other uses. Next door is being used as a snug/TV room but could become a study/hobby space particularly due to the double

French doors that not only allow for natural light to flood the room but also provide access onto a South Westerly patio and garden. The built in cupboards and shelves of bedroom six are echoed here and there is access to a ground-floor bathroom, boiler room (allowing for storage) and stairs to the first floor. The bathroom has contemporary styling with bath and shower over, hand-basin with vanity cupboard, WC, tall chrome heated towel rail and window out adding light and ventilation. Back into the second entrance hallway and there is access to a further two ground-floor bedrooms (bedrooms four and five), both doubles and having their own en-suites with shower cubicles, WC, hand-basins and heated towel rails. This arrangement would be ideal for families requiring ground-floor accommodation (possible multi-generational living) or large families who require space and flexible accommodation.

On the first floor are a further three bedrooms (one with en-suite). Bedroom one is a good sized double with a window to the side providing beautiful views of the countryside beyond and an original feature fireplace. This room benefits from a dressing area with built in wardrobes, a vanity space (currently set up as a small home office) and an attractively styled en-suite shower room with three piece suite including a walk in shower unit. Bedroom two is also a good double with window to the rear and attractive cast iron fireplace. Bedroom three is a single but would make an ideal study with a feature window to the front.

Garden

The front garden has a generous amount of lawn and enjoys South facing views across farmland. The lawn wraps around to the side of the property where a patio area links to French doors ideal for alfresco dining or relaxing with a good book. There is a Victorian style greenhouse and orchard with interspersed specimen fruit trees.

Outbuildings & Parking

The sweeping, private driveway with gated entry provides ample parking for a number of cars.

To the East of the property is a workshop and shed. The workshop has both a pedestrian door and double doors to the front and benefits from having light and power.

Services

Air source heat pump. Solar panels.
Mains electricity and water are connected. Private drainage.
