IF YOU LIVED HERE..

The lower level is dedicated to the sleeping space, with three double bedrooms arranged around the landing. Each has a calm, pared-back finish, with soft neutral walls, timber-effect flooring and plenty of natural light. One bedroom has its own contemporary ensuite shower room and air conditioning, while a further shower room serves the rest of the floor. There's also a separate utility room, keeping laundry neatly away from the main living areas.

Head upstairs and the apartment opens into an expansive reception room and kitchen, where the high ceilings add to the sense of space. Large black-framed windows bring in an abundance of daylight, while pale flooring and crisp white walls keep everything feeling bright and open. There's ample room for separate lounging and dining areas, and the kitchen sits to one side with deep blue cabinetry, pale worktops and a long run of preparation space. Air conditioning has also been installed in the main living area, adding another practical touch. Immaculately presented throughout, the interiors feel clean, contemporary and thoughtfully finished.

One more flight takes you up to the private roof terrace. It's a particularly special part of this unique penthouse, with a generous paved area, glass balustrades and far-reaching views across Walthamstow and beyond. There's plenty of room for outdoor seating and dining, creating an additional space to enjoy throughout the warmer months.

WHAT ELSE?

Residents also benefit from access to a gym and sauna, as well as a concierge service within the building. Walthamstow Central is right next door, putting both the Victoria line and London Overground within exceptionally easy reach for journeys across London. Walthamstow Village is nearby, with Orford Road home to independent shops, restaurants and pubs including The Queen's Arms and The Nag's Head.

A WORD FROM THE OWNER...

"The penthouse apartment has so much natural light from the skylights, big windows, and being south-facing. I really notice it in winter especially — the light keeps the mood up when the days get short. The flat is right next to the tube and Overground, and a short walk to the village — so handy! I love being close to Soho Theatre and the cinema — I sometimes go in my pjs with just a coat thrown over myself. The building has a gym and sauna, so convenient, and I also love Fantastic Creatures, a great boutique community gym just around the corner. There's always something new popping up at Walthamstow Market nearby, and I love a morning walk through the village to St Mary's Church garden."
