LOCATION

Royston is a market town situated in North Hertfordshire, approximately 15 miles (24 km) south of Cambridge and 42 miles (68 km) north of London. The town benefits from good transport links, with the A10 running north-south through Royston and the A505 providing access to the M11 and A1(M), facilitating regional and national travel. Royston railway station lies on the Cambridge to London

King's Cross mainline, offering regular direct services. The fastest journey time to London King's Cross is approximately 37 minutes, while travel to Cambridge takes as little as 14 minutes.

Local amenities include a range of supermarkets, independent retailers, public houses, cafés, healthcare services, and a leisure centre. A traditional outdoor market operates twice weekly. Educational provision includes several primary schools and a secondary academy. Therfield Heath, a large area of chalk grassland on the edge of the town, offers recreational space for walking and sport, and is also a designated Site of Special Scientific Interest.

OUTSIDE

The front of the property has been attractively landscaped and incorporates a selection of mature shrubs and decorative slate beds. A block paved area, with established hedging, complements the frontage, whilst a gently sloping pathway leads to the entrance door.

The fully enclosed and part walled rear garden enjoys a desirable southerly aspect and is predominantly laid to lawn. A patio seating area provides an ideal space for outdoor entertaining, whilst the garden is enhanced by a variety of shrubs, climbing plants, and a mature tree. Further benefits include an outside tap and gated rear access leading to a shared pedestrian pathway, which in turn provides access to the block paved driveway and single garage.
