Offers In Excess Of The Street, Stanton

Situated in the well-served village of Stanton, this beautifully presented end-terraced period cottage combines traditional charm with modern style, offering a move-in ready home ideal for a range of buyers.

The accommodation opens with a welcoming lounge/diner, accessed via the front entrance door. This spacious yet cosy room offers plenty of space for both seating and dining—ideal for everyday living or entertaining guests. Attractive real oak flooring flows through the lounge/diner, kitchen, and inner hallway, lending a warm, characterful feel throughout the ground floor.

From the lounge/diner, a doorway leads into the stylish kitchen, thoughtfully designed with a sleek range of units, quartz worktops, and integrated appliances—balancing practicality with a contemporary finish.

Beyond the kitchen is an inner hallway, which gives access to the generously sized ground floor bathroom situated at the rear of the property. The bathroom features a modern white suite and concealed feature lighting, bringing a touch of luxury to the space. The hallway opens directly onto the rear garden.

Stairs rise from the lounge/diner to the first floor, where two bright and modern bedrooms await. Each room is filled with natural light and presented in a clean, neutral style, making them ideal for a couple, small family, or those working from home.

Externally, the property boasts a spacious L-shaped rear garden, mainly laid to lawn with a patio area—perfect for relaxing, or gardening. The outdoor space is private and well-maintained, providing a peaceful retreat.

This charming and thoughtfully updated home is perfect for first-time buyers, downsizers, or anyone seeking a blend of character and convenience in a popular Suffolk village. Early viewing is highly recommended to appreciate what this beautifully presented home has to offer.
