Location

There are only eight properties that occupy the cul-de-sac that forms Teg Lowarth (which is translated from Cornish 'beautiful garden'). This property is towards the head of the cul-de-sac and enjoys open views to the front across towards Carn Brea and to the rear, Lanner Hill. Southgate Street provides easy access into Redruth town centre, which is less than a mile away, whilst the popular village of Lanner, is a similar distance in the opposite direction. Redruth has a range of shops and facilities as well as a mainline railway station. Primary schools are available at Trewirgie and Lanner with the secondary school at Redruth having a very good reputation. Larger commercial facilities can be found in Falmouth and Truro - both of which are within twelve miles, Falmouth well known for its beaches, shops and restaurants and Truro with its magnificent three spired Cathedral, cobbled streets and home to both Treliske hospital and private schooling. The A30 trunk road is also within striking distance, the property is therefore ideally suited for most needs.
